Women's Marches nationwide set sights on battle for #MeToo.

By Laura Kano, Andrea Castillo and Nina Ahmad

In a brutewater coast-to-coast outpouring of words, songs and gestures, hundreds of thousands of marchers in downtown Los Angeles, marching in snowy Park City, Utah, none of the din of film Festival, or any other nod to the #BlackCol" "We've got to give it all we've got. Time is up!" addition to the roll call of major American cities where actions took place — including New York, Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Atlanta — protesters also raised their voices in small towns, rural places, and college campuses, enacting a widespread movement in the anniversery of Trump's inauguration, to oppose the president's stance on immigration.
