The message: “We are watching you.”

I am the editor and publisher of both books. However, this isn’t why I am writing to you.

When the time came for me to react to the storm clouds of litigation that have been gathering around our authors from the moment our books were published, Gennady Timchenko, a member of Putin’s inner circle, responded to Catherine Belton’s account of his financial dealings with his words “I am the editor and publisher of both books. However, this isn’t why I am writing to you.”
